

Celebrate National Critical Care Awareness Month

May is National Critical Care Awareness and Recognition Month (NCCARM). Join the Society of Critical Care Medicine (SCCM) in acknowledging the unwavering and inspiring commitment of critical care clinicians worldwide!

Wear Blue on Friday, May 17

Celebrate your ICU team through video tribute, shared meal, staff recognition ceremony, or other special event. Bring blue snacks and decorations and wear your favorite blue scrubs! Share your celebrations with SCCM and the critical care community using the hashtag #CritCareMonth.

Spread the Word

SCCM provides materials to help you and your team celebrate. Visit sccm.org/critcaremonth to download the NCCARM Promotional Kit to get suggested social media posts and images.

Share Your Gratitude

Take a moment to recognize your critical care colleagues or share your gratitude via social media using #CritCareMonth.

- Thank a colleague for their dedication
- Give a shout-out to a mentor
- Share kind words with someone who has inspired you
- Share what makes you proud to be in critical care

Don't forget to tag SCCM

