APPLICATION FOR ENDORSEMENT

The Society of Critical Care Medicine (SCCM) invites you to apply for endorsement of your continuing medical education activity. The fee for endorsement of each educational activity location is $4,000 which is non-refundable, includes one complimentary set of SCCM membership mailing labels and one-time use of the SCCM logo on marketing materials. Additional mailing lists or usage can be purchased. Endorsement is granted as a one-time use and a new application must be completed for any reoccurring programs, or additional dates from the initial approval. The SCCM requires ninety (90) days to review all requests for endorsement. SCCM affiliates, chapters, and sections are not required to pay the endorsement fee, but should refer to the SCCM Authorized Use of Logo Policy for additional information.

Requests for endorsement will only be considered from non-profit organizations. The SCCM must approve in writing the preliminary educational program and any promotional materials or brochures in advance of their printing. Once written approval is obtained from the SCCM, NO changes can be made to either the educational program or the promotional materials without resubmission to the SCCM for review.

The SCCM adheres to the following guiding principles when determining whether the proposed educational program will be considered for endorsement:

1. Does the educational event serve SCCM members?
2. Is it a unique project that will promote the mission and vision of SCCM?
3. Does it ultimately serve the patient?

As an applicant for endorsement by the SCCM, you will be required to do the following:

- complete the application no later than seven (7) months prior to the start of each educational program
- provide an educational program schedule, including:
 - three (3) learning objectives
 - session times, topics and faculty identified

The SCCM will confirm in writing approval of the educational program within ninety (90) days of receipt.

The Application for Endorsement does not include continuing education credits. Should your organization wish to apply for continuing education credit and/or joint sponsorship of the educational program with the SCCM, please complete the SCCM Application for Joint Sponsorship.
